

Andy Miller Bio

Andy Miller assumed the role of Executive Director at Human Solutions in July, 2015. Andy brings to Human Solutions over 25 years of experience and leadership advancing the cause of social justice in Oregon and beyond.

Before joining the team at Human Solutions, Andy served as Chief Operating Officer at Volunteers of America Oregon, where he oversaw agency operations, facilities, housing, strategic planning and program development for a high-impact social service agency serving the Portland, Oregon region's most vulnerable residents.

Andy spent 13 years with the Portland Housing Bureau, where he provided executive leadership in a variety of positions for the bureau charged with solving the unmet housing needs of Portland residents. Andy was appointed by the City's Housing Commissioner to serve as the Bureau's Interim Director and navigated a complex merger with the Housing Department of Portland's urban renewal agency.

A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and Cornell Law School, Andy began his career as a staff attorney for legal aid offices in Oregon and New York, where he assisted hundreds of clients confronting the impacts of homelessness, poverty and domestic violence.

A former New Yorker - and forever a Yankee fan - Andy has lived in Portland, Oregon with his family since 1995.
